

Data Processing Agreement

MarketCrew Ltd may act as a data processor when handling client data within the systems we design and deploy.

We process data only on documented instructions from the client and only to the extent necessary to deliver the agreed services.

Where third-party platforms are used, data is processed within those systems under the client's control and subject to their respective terms.

We take reasonable technical and organisational measures to protect data, while data ownership and responsibility remain with the client.

We may update this agreement from time to time to reflect changes in our services.
