

Terms of Service

MarketCrew Ltd provides consulting, system design, and implementation services focused on AI automation, data infrastructure, and revenue operations.

All services are delivered based on agreed scope, timelines, and deliverables defined per client engagement.

We may integrate and configure third-party platforms such as CRM systems, financial software, and cloud services. Clients are responsible for maintaining their own licenses and compliance.

We design and deploy systems intended to improve efficiency, automation, and visibility, but we do not guarantee specific business outcomes.

We may update these terms from time to time to reflect changes in our services.
